Telecast of Doordershan and Metro Channel programmes in country

3302. DR. RANBIR SINGH:
SHRI RAM NATH KOVIND:

Will the Minister of INFORMATION AND BROADCASTING be pleased to state:

(a) whether all Doordarshan channels and Metro channel programmes are being telecast in each district of country;

(b) if so, details thereof; and

(c) if not, names of such districts together with steps to be taken to provide the facility including time schedule drawn up in this regard?

THE MINISTER OF INFORMATION AND BROAD CASTING (SHRI S. JAIPAL REDDY): (a) to (c) The satellite derived services of Doordarshan, including the Metro channel service, are already available throughout the country by using appropriate dish antennae system. Terrestrially, the National network (DD-I) is telecast in 68% of the area of the country enabling 86% of the population of our country to receive it. Since telecast of programmes through various transmitters of varying capacity transcends district borders, the information is not maintained on district basis. It is maintained on the basis of location of Transmitters and Doordarshan has currently 908 transmitters/transpasers located in various parts of the country. It is the endeavour of the Government to cover at least 90% of the population and 75% of the area of the country by the end of IX plan.
